

Central Texas and the Texas

Hill Country is known as one of the top locations to bird in the Lone Star State.

According to Audubon, Texas's bird list of nearly 650 ranks second among the states (behind only California), and the Hill Country is home to rare species that can only be found here. Escondida Spa and Resort is located in the heart of the Texas Hill Country and its spectacular birding. If you want to view some of the most exciting bird migration in the country, visit Texas and the Texas Hill Country. The Hill Country is known for its varied ecological regions, from limestone geology to canyons brimmed with dense oak and Ashe-junipers. Want the chance to see Golden-cheeked Warbler, Black-capped Vireo or Painted Bunting? Visit Escondida Spa and Resort for our birdwatching weekend, September 25-27. Our expert guide will take you to the best view spots on our 120 acre property. Fall is a perfect time to spot some of the various species the Hill Country has to offer.
